Kozo Matsubayashi MD, PhD is a Professor of Center for Southeast Asian Studies of Kyoto University, Japan. He is has been studying geriatric medicine in field settings in Asian countries as well as in Japan. He has created a new academic and medical discipline called Field Medicine. He got several prizes including Chichibunomiya Memorial Award in 1992 and Best Researcher Award of Japanese Association of Geriatric Medicine in 1995. His main achievements are as follows;