

World Health Summit Regional Meeting 2021, Uganda - Digital

Makerere University hosts the first World Health Summit Regional Meeting in Africa

The first African edition of the World Health Summit Regional Meeting will take place from June 27-30 in Uganda and online.

Due to COVID-19 and the recent developments in Uganda, the whole program will take place online with cost-free participation: All keynote sessions, panel discussions, and workshops will be available live digitally.

Makerere University in Kampala is organizing one of the most important events of its kind in Africa: The World Health Summit Regional Meeting will bring together experts from around the world and especially many African countries to discuss a large number of diverse topics of great importance for global health and for health in Africa in particular.

Sessions include:

- Building Sustainable Partnerships for Addressing the Burden of Non-Communicable Diseases (NCDs)
- Digital Health: Promises and Challenges towards SDG 3
- Intersection of COVID-19 and Mental Health
- Africa's Journey towards Achieving the SDGs and Universal Health Coverage

"We are extremely delighted to be leading the preparations for the World Health Summit Regional Meeting, the first ever to be hosted on African soil. With health professionals and other stakeholders in government and the private sector coming together, I'm optimistic that the meeting will stir us all to think better and work harder to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals, all of which pertain to health, whether directly or indirectly," says Charles Ibingira, International President of the World Health Summit 2021 and former Principal of the College of Health Sciences at Makerere University.
